Three-day Farm2Food exhibition opens to trade visitors in Dhaka

Savor International Limited inaugurated the three-day international exhibition 'Farm2Food Bangladesh 2026' at International Convention City Bashundhara (ICCB) in Kuril, Dhaka, yesterday (15 October), showcasing local and international companies from agriculture and food-related industries.

The exhibition runs until 17 October and is open daily to trade and business visitors from 10 am to 7 pm, according to the press release.
Participating sectors include agriculture, food processing, packaging, dairy, meat processing, fisheries and aquaculture, cold chain, food safety and smart food manufacturing.

Special guests at the inauguration included Jorn van Bommel, ambassador of the Kingdom of the Netherlands to Bangladesh; Ne Zhun, deputy director of the Trade Development Bureau of China's Ministry of Commerce; Md Fairul Alam, managing director of Savor International Limited; Mohammad Hassan Arif, secretary of the Ministry of Commerce; Mohammad Mohsin, president of the Bangladesh Seed Association; Mohd Khorshed Alam, president of the Bangladesh China Chamber of Commerce and Industry; and Shalim Siraj, media personality and agricultural development advocate, also attended the inauguration.

Md Fairul Alam, managing director of Savor International Limited, attended the ceremony.
The exhibition aims to promote modern technologies in agriculture and food-based industries, strengthen food processing and packaging, enhance food safety, expand cold chain solutions, and boost international business collaboration.
Companies are showcasing agricultural machinery, food processing technologies, packaging solutions, dairy technologies, meat and seafood processing equipment, cold chain solutions, food safety systems and smart manufacturing technologies.
The exhibition provides a platform for local and international companies to showcase their latest agricultural machinery, food processing technologies, packaging solutions, dairy technologies, meat and seafood processing equipment, cold chain solutions, food safety systems, and smart manufacturing technologies.
Organisers expect the exhibition to facilitate business partnerships, technology transfer, knowledge exchange and investment opportunities.

They said these connections could support modernisation, productivity, export growth and sustainable development in Bangladesh's agriculture and food industries.
